NOVUM MEDICAL PRODUCTS CELEBRATES ISO 9001:2015 QUALITY CERTIFICATION

Novum Medical Products, a manufacturer and provider of medical equipment and furnishings, is proud to announce that this past September, the company was certified by the NSF accreditation body with ISO 9001:2015 Certification - showing once again that quality is the foundation of our corporate structure.

ISO 9001 provides a set of uniform requirements for a quality management system. The standard is based on several quality management principles, including a strong customer focus, support of top management, the process approach, and continual improvement.

Our core values, values Novum's management and its employees adhere to each day, are to Commit to and Own the daily and individual responsibilities required to operate a business where quality is at its foundation.

"This is just one more step in the evolution for our company whose sole purpose is to provide quality healthcare solutions to the marketplace." - Joe Manzella, President & Managing Partner. "Novum Medical Products is proud of this achievement and this certification and fully appreciates the long-term commitment to our continuous improvement."

Novum Medical's products are used in hospitals, long-term care facilities, and Surgical Centers throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, and the Middle East.

Novum's all-encompassing product line provides facilities with all the necessary equipment and furniture to properly take care of their patients and maximize the staff's ability to do their jobs. Our product line includes Pediatric Products, Complete Room Furnishing Solutions, and Steel Based Medical Equipment including IV Poles and Instrument Tables. Novum is also known for its custom fabricating capabilities and its partnerships with other medical equipment manufacturers for OEM and fulfillment services.

Novum will continue to provide its customers and partners with quality products and services that they can count on. To learn more about our ISO 9001:2015 Certification, click here and view our official certificate.
